New Sleep-Saving Pacifier: the WubbaNub

"How are we ever going to get that pacifier to stay put so we can all get some sleep?" Carla Schneider of Orange, Connecticut answered her husband's question by sewing a plush toy to her baby's pacifier, and with that the WubbaNub was born. The Schneiders faced the common parenting problem where every time the baby falls asleep, the pacifier falls out...and the crying begins all over again. The WubbaNub pacifier has an attached plush animal that is designed to rest firmly on the baby's chest, preventing the pacifier from falling out of the mouth. "We have heard from many moms and dads who are thankful to finally have a solution to their baby's falling pacifier," says Schneider.

The WubbaNub is designed according to all appropriate national safety code requirements for infant products and is safe to use from birth to 6 months. It has strings, cords or clips to fuss with inspired to launch a baby bag that encompasses all the essential items a first time mother would need for childbirth, and developed a savvy product that contains almost 40 items for new moms. Unlike typical gift baskets, the NikkiChris Special Delivery System is a novel approach to address and meet the needs of the maternity and newborn market.

The Messenger bag is available in black (neutral), blue and pink, with a simple exterior, and the interior's vibrant pattern corresponds with a theme for boy, girl or yet to be known! The retail price is $249, available at select boutiques, by phone, 1-877-KIT-4-BABY, or online at www.nikkichris.com.

The Diaper Clutch

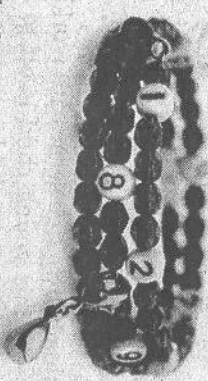

The latest design from E. Berger Baby, a Westport based company of moms, is a folded and tied case, Diaper Clutch, that contains pockets for all the diaper-at any major retailer with a suggested price of $99.99 to $129.99 and recommended for children up to age 3 and less than 40 pounds. Visit www.gracobaby.com.

The Nursing Bracelet

After a rigorous review and testing process, the Nursing Bracelet, by Unique Mums LLC, achieved high standards of excellence with iParenting Media. The Nursing Bracelet is a wearable nursing log, designed to track a baby's feeds without the hassle of spreadsheets, notebooks, or other reminders. The bracelet can track the exact time a baby last nursed as well as remind mom which breast she last nursed from. With an extra charm, it can track twins' feeding schedules, or let mom track feeds AND other activities at the same time, like nap times, etc.

How does it work? The beads are arranged like a twelve hour clock with
